DiningroomTable Mastermind Group for Professional Women

Are you a leader in modern day organization?

Are you sometimes overwhelmed by volatility and constant change?

Are you struggling to balance your work and other roles?

Do you sometimes feel defeated in your job; and life in general?

If these questions resonate with you then join a group of likeminded professionals in pursuit of satisfaction and happiness whilst manifesting your dreams and desires.

“Mastermind groups offer a combination of brainstorming, education, peer accountability and support in a group setting” Napoleon Hill (Think and Growth Rich)

Building a career can often be a great challenge for many women leaders. This coupled with other life demands often make leaders feel ineffective and overwhelmed.

Modern day organizations require leaders who are visionary; resilient; self-aware as well as team players. Many leaders possess the necessary skills to do this but often times suffer from lack of self-confidence; loneliness and self-doubt.

Joining a group of women who are going through the same journey might be the answer you are looking for. These women are in similar roles and have to endure the same issues and this requires working; growing and sharing together. They meet once a month on a Saturday and the sessions are hosted by Pam Yako a leadership and success coach.

If this sounds like you; join a group of women leaders as part of a Mastermind group where you learn together; support each other and jointly navigate the demands of modern day organizations. The group is hosted by Pam Yako; who is a leadership coach; has spent more than 15 years in executive positions and now runs own leadership business.

Say goodbye to hesitation and procrastination and invest in your bright future through joining one of the Mastermind groups; where you will learn more, be more and achieve more.

Are you game?

Investment: R570 a month for a period of 9 months – Starting in February 2018.
